Captain Kubley:

I would like to offer support and encouragement to all federal agencies that might be interested in procuring your temporary "dome" shelters for emergency use. These domes provide safe and reliable shelter in all types of extreme weather conditions. They are easy to assemble and easily transportable.

These shelters are optimal for use as temporary shelters in times of disaster emergencies and these domes would be exceptional for use in Alaska. They far exceed the capabilities of the existing canvas tents.

I would recommend you contact the Federal Emergency Management Administration (FEMA) and encourage their purchase of these domes for emergency deployment use. Should FEMA purchase these shelters, I would encourage them to be deployed to FEMA Region X, so that they would be accessible to Alaska and other states in the Pacific Northwest.

Sincerely,

Lt. Gen. (AK) Craig E. Campbell
Adjutant General of the Alaska National Guard
